Women Cell, Swachchhta Senani Team and Dept. of English Aggarwal college Ballabgarh visited the village Chandawali to create awareness regarding menstrual hygiene and cleanliness on 27th Nov.2018. Total 25 students along with Incharges Dr. Geeta Gupta and Dr. Sarika Kanjlia visited the Govt. Girls middle school and distributed sanitary napkins there. They awarded the girl students about bad touch, good touch. Students were asked to use sanitary napkins instead of dirty clothes and changed the napkins after six hours. They were also told to keep their surroundings clean. The students also told the vendors selling junk food and candies in the school premises not to sell confectionary but to sell fruits and vegetables. Students also visited Aanganwadi and told the children about cleanliness, hygiene and nutrition. They were told to wash their hands properly, eat seasonal and leafy vegetables and keep their surroundings clean. The volunteers also visited sewing centre and told the women working there about personal hygiene and sanitation and distributed sanitary pads and made them aware of its uses and asked them to aware other women of their family and neighbourhood.

They also did door to door campaign and distributed sanitary pads and advised women to keep themselves clean and hygienic to avoid any disease and infections. The Sarpanch of the village met the students and ensured every help and support to make this campaign a success.
