

Press Release

Department of English, Aggarwal College Ballabgarh organised a Guest Lecture on 06-02-2019 on 'Literature and Society'. The lecture was delivered by Dr. Anand Prakash, retired Prof., University of Delhi, New Delhi. A renowned person in the field of literature , he talked about how literature liberates and society binds. He said that literature plays a very constructive role in building and developing a progressive society . Giving the definition of literature, he talked about oral and printed literature and further added that literature should be modern and based on humanity . The lecture was organised by Dr. Geeta Gupta, Dr. Sarika Kanjlia and Dr. Inayat Chaudhary. 145 students of M.A.English and B.A. were benefitted with this lecture. These lectures are organised under the able guidance of Principal Dr. Krishan Kant.