

Aggarwal College Ballabgarh Launches Certificate Course on Indian Knowledge System (IKS) in Hybrid Mode

Aggarwal College Ballabgarh's Centre of Indian Knowledge System has launched a 30-hour certificate course on Indian Knowledge System (IKS) in hybrid mode, in line with the National Education Policy 2020. The course, which commenced on February 5, 2025, aims to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of India's rich cultural heritage and traditional knowledge systems.

This lecture series is designed by Dr. Sarika Kanjlia and Dr. Inayat Chaudhary who will also give lectures on it. The course covers various aspects of Indian Knowledge System, including philosophy, science, art, and spirituality. The 30-hour program will feature lectures, discussions, and interactive sessions.

The Indian Knowledge System certificate course will enable students to explore the depth and richness of India's traditional knowledge systems and inspire them to appreciate and respect India's cultural heritage.

The course is being conducted under the guidance of President Shri Devendra Gupta, General Secretary Shri Dinesh Gupta, and Acting Principal Dr. Sanjeev Kumar Gupta. The course has received an enthusiastic response from students, who are eager to learn about India's rich cultural legacy.

Aggarwal College Ballabgarh's Centre of Indian Knowledge System is committed to promoting India's traditional knowledge systems and cultural heritage. This certificate course is a significant step towards achieving this goal.
